PROFILE

Motivated third-year Computer Science & Engineering student at UBT College with a strong interest in software engineering and intelligent systems.

Through academic and collaborative projects, I have gained practical experience in designing and developing structured software systems and working effectively in team-based development environments. Currently expanding my expertise in Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning and Cloud Computing through a six-month scholarship training program at Innovation Centre Kosovo. I am particularly interested in advancing toward the development of robust and intelligent software systems and continuously deepening my expertise in modern computing technologies.
